A MESSAGE from the PRESIDENT

President Wertz and Paul Lavalle with Little Leagners

September 16, 1957

Dear Alumni:

Last week someone asked me if we were ready for the opening of school. This is always a difficult question to answer. Sometimes it is impossible to give an answer. However, my reply went like this.

"We are in a better position to open college this September than we have been in any other year since I have been at the college as president."

This is why I could give such an answer. We have added a very fine group of well trained and competent people to the faculty. These additions, introduced to you elsewhere in this Bulletin, bring the faculty to a level of effectiveness which is higher than at any other time in our history.

In addition, we have finer facilities, and they are in better condition, than ever before. The Science Building is now complete. Other facilities have been renovated. We need not apologize for a single classroom, laboratory, or faculty office.

And finally, we have the best student body ever enrolled at Lycoming College. The Class of 1961, the first to be admitted on the standard of the College Entrance Examination Board scores, is a good class numbering 230. The total enrollment now numbers 852. This size student body taxes our facilities to the limit. The quality of this student body will challenge our faculty to be at their best.

What I want you, the alumni of Lycoming College, to understand is that we are at the beginning of what can well be the best year in our history.

Very sincerely, Busine Hert President

The Lycoming College Warriors are embarking upon the fourth season since the return of football to the campus. The schedule is tough and the Lyco fans can look for some exciting moments on the gridiron this fall.

This year's squad worked hard with two-aday workouts while at Camp Kline for ten days. The normal single drills resumed with the start of classes.

This is the most veteran group that we have had, and these seasoned players have been joined by a fine group of freshmen.

Gone from last year's squad is a starting tackle and the starting center. Junior Tackle Dick Cramer of Lebanon has been suffering dizzy spells and has been advised by the squad doctor to give up the game. Center Emory Hanscom of Emporium is now a Marine in the service of his country.

On the happy side of the picture, we find the two senior ends, Little All-American Candidate from South Williamsport, Ken Poleyn; and Dick Kaluza. Both have looked good this fall. Three other veteran ends who are ready to go and who will see much action are Jim Miller of Yeagertown, John Cox of Huntingdon, and Joe Mnick, a Williamsporter who is now eligible after transferring from Rutgers.

Tackles who will see much service are allstate tackle Wilbur White of Yeagertown, Pa., Howie Worth from Riverside, N. J., Leroy Thompson from Williamsport, and Dave Himes, senior from Harrisburg, and converted guard Jim McCormick, who is also from Harrisburg. The guards are led by All-state Frank Agnello, and Ed Receski, both from Indiana, Pa. Don Bohensky from Johnstown and Norm McGraw from Middletown give depth to this spot.

Sophomore Bob Delbono from New York City leads the center candidates with Don Enigk from Williamsport, a converted fullback; and Dick Starr from Trout Run, a fine pre-ministerial student following in close order.

Sophomore Tip Agnello and Paul Motta handle the quarterbacking. Big John Joe from Coatesville returns at fullback and veteran backs John Grier from Harrisburg, Wayne Bolm from Yeagertown, Bill Smith from Hazleton, and senior Rich Reimold of Danville will be carrying the ball. Walt Boyer, Williamsport, a transfer from the University of Cincinnati, promises to add greatly to the Lyco backfield.

Freshmen augmenting the squad are Mike Seroka, center, and Burt Richardson, end, both from Auburn, N. Y. Eddie Boyer, brother of Walt, is a fullback. From Oakmont comes Dave Taylor, a fine tackle prospect. Stan Okotkewicz, an excellent fullback, Jim Rudy from Port Matilda is another strong candidate at tackle. Bill King from Haverford is an end. Ike Williams of Harrisburg, Dave James from Lock Haven, and Ron Markle from Jersey Shore are working at quarterback. Don Reed from Oakmont is at halfback, and Vic Bertoletti is working hard at guard.

This squad is eager to win and they are hoping that you will want to watch them play. They promise to give a good account of themselves.

MISSION ACCOMPLISHED

The Choir Tour to England was designed to give an opportunity to a group of young Americans to express appreciation to the people of Great Britain, and especially to the Methodist people of Great Britain, for the rich heritage which we share in common. In the hight of this purpose, the tour was fantastically successful. In the universal language of song the choir spoke to a tremendously enthusiastic people from whom they received the warmest possible response.

> D. FREDERICK WERTZ President, Lycoming College

CHOIR RETURNS FROM EVENTFUL TRIP

It would take pages to describe everything that happened to the Lycoming College A Cappella Choir on their month's sojourn in England. Instead of taking up so much space with just words we telt that a pictorial survey would give you some idea of what the choir saw and did while they were overseas.

In addition to singing they did have time to do a little sightseeing. They visited a number of ancient castles and at one of them the 38 musicians were entertained with tea. On another occasion they were accommodated in the dormitories of the Wesley Deaconess College at Ilkley.

The choir did not limit their contact with the English people to singing alone. In fact, one of the purposes of the trip was to afford an exchange of ideas and thinking between the choir members and English folk. Ample opportunity for this was provided in the social periods which followed most of the concerts. The choir met with other young people and exchanged information about customs, slang, folklore and other habits.

BRITISH RESERVE THAWS

"The whole visit was practically without precedent Knowing Sonthport, I was pleasantly surprised at the way people turned up for an evening gathering, and even keen musical critics like David Solomon were very delighted at the high quality and sheer efficiency of their performance."

Riv. H. G. Fibbick, MA Southport, England

A letter addressed to a pastor of one of the churches where the choir sang is quoted in its entirety.

Dear Sir:

I intended writing earlier but it is now that I have the opportunity to express my warm thanks for the splended singing I heard in your church last Sunday morning. It made such an impression upon me that I felt it my duty to let you know.

Most impressive was the choral benediction with which the service closed. Again 1 thank you for a spiritual experience which will linger in my memory

Yours truly.

LYCOMING COLLEGE CHOIR ITINERARY

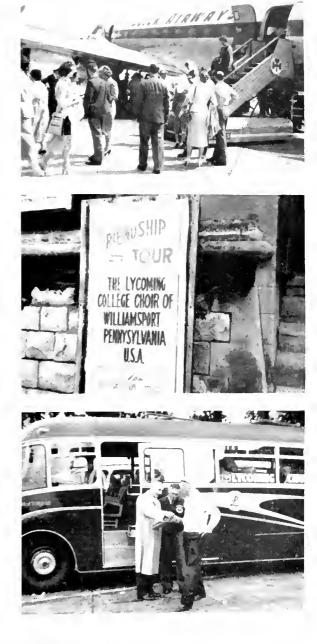

Listed below is the scheduled itinerary of the Choir while they were in England. It almost amounted to a concert a day or "singing for their daily bread." However, this was the schedule only and does not reflect the total number of concerts. Followers of the A Cappella Choir are well aware that one of their strongest assets is their ability to sing almost any kind of music on a moments notice. As a result there were a number of other concerts sandwiched in which are not shown here. From the day they arrived in England until the day of departure they were singing.

COLLEGE ADDS TO FACULTY AND STAFF

One of the best indications of a growing college is the number and calibre of faculty and staff additions. BUSINESS AND INDUSTRY CO

Business Leadership Sees Importance of Assistance

As in each preceding year, a new peak of support was achieved in the financial support of independent higher education in Pennsylvania for the fiscal year ending May 31, 1957.

The fifth annual appeal to business and industry in the state resulted in gifts totaling $346,933.81 which represented an increase of 13% over the previous year.

The presidents of member colleges continued their efforts on behalf of the Foundation for Independent Colleges, Inc. During the annual calling period last November, they personally visited more than 1,000 corporations. This represented 274 president-days given to the presentation of the program. Teamed with presidents were college administrative officers who contributed an additional 269 days. Such a record of endeavor leaves no doubt as to the seriousness of purpose and the importance which is attached to this program by educators in Pennsylvania.

Lady Assumes Editorship of Alumni Bulletin

R. Andrew Lady

May I take the liberty of using this publication as a medium to greet all alumni of this institution. It will be a pleasure indeed to be working again on the campus where I witnessed the Williamsport-Dickinson Junior College gradnate to a four year college. Since I am an alumnus myself, Class of '49, the prospect of working with former classmates and old acquaintances is especially inviting. In the months to come I shall welcome the opportunity to know the rest of you who have been students at one time "on the hill."

The responsibilities of my new position are varied and certainly challenging. However, I think a short story will get my point across to you better than a formal appeal.

When Pop Warner was coach of Carlisle Indian School, he was invited to bring his Indians over for a dual track meet with Lafayette University.

Pop_arrived with three men . . . the late [im Thorpe and two others.

Lafayette's coach said. "Let's call this ridiculous meet off. We've got FTFTY men." Pop said, "We'll make it a meet!"

Thorpe put the shot, once, and won. He won the hurdles; took one high jump . . . and one toss of the discus . . . won all. Then he ran, and won both sprints, plus the quarter-mile run . . . when they added up the score, it was Lafayette 56, Thorpe 75.

The above illustration indicates that while Thorpe could do it himself, I can't. Neither can Lycoming College do it herself.

In preparing this Alumni Bulletin, we depend on many of you alumni to provide us with news items which make this publication interesting. We are always interested in your comments, in your criticisms, and in your suggestions. We are especially dependent upon each of you individually to keep us advised of any "Change of Address" or change in name.

By the same token we are also counting on all of you to participate in the 1958 Alumni Fund and not "let Thorpe do it himself." You will be receiving more information about the Alumni Fund in the near future.

CONVOCATION ON HIGHER EDUCATION HELD AT COLLEGE OCTOBER 2

A convocation of Higher Education, sponsored by the Central Pennsylvania Conference, was held at the college on Wednesday, October 2, 1957. This is part of a broad program to focus the attention of the public on the problems involved in continuing education beyond the high school.

In the afternoon discussion groups were held for Ministers, Student Leaders, Faeulty and Invited Laymen. Other leaders present for the convocation included Dr. H. D. Artist and Lecture Series 1957-1958

Students May Broaden Their Cultural Horizons With These Outstanding Events "We were extremely gratified with the success of last year's Artists and Lecturers Series, and we expect this year's series to be an even greater success. A memorable performance or lecture stimulates the mind and gives focus and added significance to life." In making this statement Delbert Gardner, Instructor in English and Chairman of the Committee, added, "We sincerely hope that the student body will take full advantage of this opportunity to see and hear great artists and lecturers."

A familiar figure on campus for more than three decades, Mrs. Lulu Brunstetter retired at the close of the spring semester. An assistant librarian, with the rank of instructor, Mrs. Brunstetter observed her 80th birthday recently. A soft-spoken woman whose appearance belies her 80 years, she came to the campus in 1925, three years after the late Dr. John W. Long assumed the presidency.

Faculty Received Advanced Degrees . . .

Miss Frances E. Knights, assistant professor of mathematics, was awarded the degree of doctor of education with a major in higher education and a minor in mathematics. Miss Knights, who joined the College Faculty in 1947, had been on sabbatical leave during the past year.

Mr. Logan A. Richmond, Instructor in Business Administration, spent the summer at New York University working on his master's degree.

LITTLE LEAGUERS: For three days this summer, as last year, Lycoming College was host to the Little League World Series. The pint-sized players this year hailed from Escanaba, Michigan; Bridgeport, Connecticut; LaMesa, California; and Monterrey, Mexico. The College provided both dormitory and dining facilities to these future "stars of the diamond."

This year's World Series was won for the first time by a foreign team, the midgets from Monterrey, Mexico. They did it the hard way winning it in a perfect no-hit, no-run game, the final score being 4-0. Harry E. Humphreys, Jr. is President of the U. S. Rubber Company, the sponsor of the Little League World Series. He was also the commencement speaker at the College on June 2, 1957.

AMBITIOUS BUILDING PROGRAM

In the Alumni Bulletin a year ago we reported that two new buildings were being added under one phase of the Development Program at Lycoming College. One was the $425,000.00 Men's Dormitory. The second was the Science Building which represented an expenditure of more than $200,000.00 excluding equipment.

We are happy to report that both of these buildings have been completed and are now in use. The Men's Dormitory is completely filled and there are additional students clamoring to get in. The Science Building represents a remarkable achievement and is a "must" for Alumni who have not been on the campus for a year or more. We are not resting on our laurels, howthere will be a lounge with slightly over 2,000 sq. ft. A huge fireplace dominates the south end of the lounge. The College Book Store will be located in the south wing of the main floor. There will be a second floor in the north wing only. This will provide facilities for 5 or 6 offices, a large conference room, as well as two guest bedrooms, with private baths.

Plans are also being made to erect an auditorium on the northeast corner of the campus which will seat approximately 1,500 people. While the plans have not received final approval, it has long been recognized that the city of Williamsport is without a large municipal auditorium. It is the feeling of the Board of Directors of the Col-ever, and anticipate additional construction in the coming year.

Immediately, we are thinking in terms of a Student Activities Building which will be constructed on College Place between Rich Hall and the President's Residence. It is expected that this building will cost approximately $500,000.00. The ground floor of the Students Activities Building will become the new dining room for the college with an area of 7.070 sq. ft., and a seating capacity of $80. There is also a snack bar which will seat 144 and includes an attractive fireplace. It will also have facilities to provide private dining areas to accommodate smaller groups. The main floor is made up of two recreational sections, one of which is almost 3,000 sq. ft. in area and another about hall that size. In addition, lege that such an auditorium added to the college would render a service to the city as well as to our own student body. At the present time Chapel and Assembly programs have been divided along class lines, so that the Freshmen and Juniors attend one session and Sophomores and Seniors attend another. This has been necessary since Clarke Chapel is no longer able to accommodate the present student enrollment which is approximately 840.

The $1,100,000,00 Development Program on campus includes the exterior and interior renovation of Old Main. Plans for this, however, are insulficient to describe in detail at this time. Additional information about Old Main will probably appear in the next issue of the Alumni Bulletin.

From the pen of the Alumni President THE FOURTH ESTATE

A number of years ago in the House of Commons a great statesman of the then far-flung British Empire, pointing to the balconies said to another prominent leader of the realm. "There sits the Fourth Estate." Traditionally the three "Estates" as they were called, were the titled nobility, the leaders of the State Church and the members of the House of Commons. But there in the baleony were the reporters for the printed news that went to the far corners of the Empire. Their importance in generating public approval and censure, of abetting or hindering the work of the Prime Minister and his Cabinet and their ability in tying tegether the strings of interest of multi-races-languages and customs was so tremendous that on this one occasion, at least, they were recognized for their tremendous pewer in the affairs of the Empire.

We suggest four Estates in any college community. The Board of Trustees and the Administrative staff ordain the policies, develop a philosophy and eare for the budgeting of finances in promoting the college program. The Faculty sets the educational standards, counsels with the students and provides means by which the students eventually are reeognized as candidates for degrees. The Students become a very necessary part of the college system as they prepare and produce according to the standards set, pay toward—and students never pay all of their college bills—the budget and absorb enough of the college traditions to make them earnest alumni as long as they live.

But what of the Alumni? Ah, they are the Fourth Estate of the college Empire. It is they who are the ambassadors, the representatives in foreign areas, the officers on the firing line, the professional people of the community, church and state. Without the Fourth Estate the College loses part of its financial support, withers away by degrees because alumni do not recommend new students, suffers loss of prestige when alumni fail to speak well of it and misses a necessary ingredient of progress, if the alumni do not offer from time to time constructive and helpful criticism.

Traditionally, we are an important part of the College dominion. How important we really are depends on how actively we relate ourselves to the one institution which helped so much to make us what we are.

Sincerely,

VICTOR B. HANN President, Alumni Association

ALUMNI CLUBS

The Williamsport Alumni Club continues to be one of our most active. While most of its members are in a position to attend all HOME games, they are concentrating their efforts for a banner crowd at the HOMECOMING game with P. M. C. on November 2. Pete Houtz and his ticket committee are doing an excellent job of pushing alumni ticket sales for all home games.

The football schedule this year is ideally suited for at least two of the clubs to get together. On Saturday, October 12, we play Albright College at the Pretzel Bowl in Reading, Penna. This is a charity game which is sponsored by the Shrine in Reading. It has been suggested that the Philadelphia Club may want to reserve a block of tickets for that game and perhaps plan a dinner immediately following the game.

The second game which lends itself to Alumni Club participation is at Beaver Falls. We play Geneva College Saturday afternoon, November 16, to clese out our football season. There have been some suggestions from the Pittsburgh Club members that they attend that game en-masse. This would permit plans for a luncheon prior to the game or a dinner meeting following the game. Final arrangements will be forwarded to individual club members when they are finalized.

FOR LETTERMEN ONLY!

During the Homecoming activities last year, the Varsity Club was host to the first meeting of the Lettermen of Lycoming College. It was suggested at that time that this become an annual affair.

Pete Houtz and a group of local lettermen have been making arrangements for this year's meeting which will include a dinner at 6:30 p. m. Friday, Nov. 1 on the eve of HOMECOM-ING. Lettermen will have the opportunity to meet cur Athletic Director and Head Football Coach, Dave Busey who will discuss our prospects for the remainder of the season and show film highlights of games played earlier this season. The activities of the evening will be concluded in time to permit attending the President's Reception.

If you won a letter in any Varsity sport while you attended either the Seminary, Junior College, or the four-year College, you are a LETTER-MAN and urged to attend. The cost of the dinner will be $2.50. Mail your reservation (no money now—that will be collected at the dinner) immediately as the deadline is October 28th.
